【6】次の英文を読んで、後の問いに答えなさい。

^{*1}Florence Nightingale was born on May 12, ①1820, in ^{*2}Florence, Italy. Her parents were spending a vacation there. They gave the name, Florence, to their baby because she was born there.

Her father, William Nightingale, was a rich ^{*3}landowner of London. Her mother was a cheerful, ^{*4}charming woman. She liked social life.

Florence grew up. When she was seventeen, she wrote in her diary, “I will give my life to the sick. It’s ^{*5}God’s will.”

When she was seventeen, she said to her father, “I will be a nurse. I will visit some hospitals in England and other countries.”

Her father was against her idea.

“Why do you leave this beautiful home?” he said. “Here you have a lot of ^{*6}servants. You have beautiful clothes. You are seventeen. This is your time for fun and pleasure. You don’t have to work.”

“But,” said Florence, “I will work. I will be a nurse and help the sick.”

“It’s a job for poor women,” said her father. “It isn’t a job for a rich girl like you. No one respects nurses.”

“I respect nurses,” said Florence. “It’s a ^{*7}noble job. It’s one of the noblest job in the world.”

“You know very little about the world,” said her father. “In a year or so you’ll change your mind.”

“I won’t change my mind,” said Florence. “Now I know very little about the job. From now on I will learn the job of a nurse. I will study at various hospitals. I will give my life to the sick. It’s the will of God.”

Her father said nothing for a few weeks. “She will change her mind,” he thought to himself, “I will wait till then.” But she was very ^{*8}firm in her ^{*9}beliefs.

Finally he said to Florence, “Well, I understand. ②_____”
